Dear Patients,

We regret to inform you that Dr. Allison Graziadei will leave our practice on May 22, 2025, to join Saratoga Hospital Endocrinology & Diabetes. Dr. Graziadei was our sole endocrinologist after Dr. Susan Demarest's recent departure. Despite our ongoing recruitment efforts, with both providers leaving, we have made the difficult decision to close Community Care Endocrinology.

With the closure of our practice, we can no longer serve as your endocrinologists and must discharge you from our practice effective May 22. Until this date, you may call our office for routine or urgent matters. If you are on medications, refills can be provided by our office until May 22, and we can provide you with a 30-day prescription if needed. After this, medications will need to be filled elsewhere.

If you have an appointment scheduled before May 22, we will work to discuss the next steps for your ongoing care when you are in the office for your appointment. If you have an appointment scheduled after May 22, that appointment has been cancelled with the office's closure.

Your ongoing care is our main concern. You may follow Dr. Graziadei or Dr. Demarest to their new practices (as availability permits) or establish a relationship with another endocrinologist of your choosing. If you are following Dr. Graziadei, Dr. Demarest, or transferring to another endocrinologist, you will first need a referral from your primary care provider; then contact the new practice for an appointment and request your medical records be transferred. You can request medical records online (communitycare.com/request-medical-records) or mail us the blank form included in this mailer.

Your primary care provider can further guide you and may even choose to manage your ongoing care depending on the level of complexity of your needs. If you have difficulty obtaining an appointment with a new endocrinologist, please contact your primary care provider.
